FIRST MAKE A HOME! Then Happiness Follows.

The human soul is a restless thing, never content to stay.

Where social life clips its wings, there it is; where it has no way.

A tender tie is that which binds the heart to home, and the man who has the easiest mind From vagrancy keep cloot.

But the home is a mother's care.

The boys begin to roam;

And till they've lived at everywhere

100 miles, no shelter, no home.

But when the easiest sites away

Sorrows come fully grown.

Parents, mothers, ye who dwell

Happily in realms earth.

Try to remember what ye felt.

All the joys of life are in your mouth.

Nothing so softens the future man.

And now in this your fulfillment plan

Is a sermon of siestence.

Content, economy, luxury, ease.

All the joys of life are in your mouth.

Bought as you will and as you please.

For your home, for your wife,

Teach your children to prize and seek

That which is noble and best;

For your wife, for your children,

McNichol will do the rest!

means that he would likely sit in the Post-office building later in the day, as soon as he had finished his depoies. These persons only, one negro and two white men, who had been brought to the Post-office building, were in charge of illegally attempting to vote, had been brought to the headquarters in the Hotel, but had up to the time of the arrest, been sent down to the Post-office building.

County Democracy candidates are undoubtedly using the knife on the National ticket. Reports from the various quarters prove that the question of rank treacher to Cleveland is in the air. From Princeton east and west, the die-hard and the die-hard, which is the political honesty of the County Democracy leaders, they are holding their noses. The men from the Tammany Hall to endeavor the Cleveland vote. They are breaking faith. Open charges of treason are being made. King and King, the two Commissioners, Tim Campbell and John Cavanagh, the two latter candidates for Congress, and other politicians are king pine. Crime is also at work in some latitudes. Voters are defrauded of their franchises. It is reported that the Tammany Hall has not opened till late after the hour fixed, 6 a. m. The poll clerks were absent, bought up or driven off by both. Both the districts are Democratic.

Chairman of the National Republican Committee, by the Post-Dispatch correspondent if he heard of any deal to trade voters with the County Democracy, or if he had seen the John C. Fagan and the Tammany Hall arrangements. He denied that any trading was being done and said that he had written to the Tammany Hall County Democracy man about any such arrangement. He acknowledged, however, that he had written to the Tammany Hall County Democracy, saying that of the two Democratic candidates, Fager and Cavanagh, he would support King pine. "But that was all right," said Quay, "I only gave an opinion which was asked."

LABOR VOTING MARSHALL.

Reports from the Twelfth and Fourteenth Assembly Districts on the east side of the city, between Fourteenth and Twenty-third streets, show that the miners are trading and trading in the labor. The laborers are voting Harrison, Miller and Cogahan and protection and the miners are running Harrison. The miners have been here and are pasting Hill's name over Warner Miller and a great many County Democrats are voting for Harrison. The miners are quietly putting Hill's posters over Harrison's and the miners are still scattered in the big tenement districts and the shrewdest experts are at sea as to the result.

ANARCHISTS IN CLEVELAND.

One of the fiercest local fights is the contest for Alderman of the second district, which includes the old "fighting Fourth" and "bloody" Sixth Wards.

Pat Divine is the Tammany candidate, and George C. Clegg is the anarchist, who, it is said, represents the County Democracy.

Early in the day the County Democrats were sure that the Tammany delegation to the Congress would be the same as that of the Cleveland delegation.

"But that was all right," said Quay, "there was no deal, but the means of defeating Gallagher. Ex-Assemblyman Edward McLaughlin, who is a Democrat, has pulled out of the race.

But that was all right," said Quay, "I only gave an opinion which was asked."

THE CITY ELECTION.

An Enormous Vote Being Polled in St. Louis
To-Day.

Rohan Leading the Democratic Ticket, With Good Chance of Success.

Francis Running Well, But "The Scratchers" Are After Him.

Giving O'Neill a Very Hard Race in the Eighth District—Nat Frank Claims That He Will Beat Castileman 2,000 Votes, but the Figures Do Not Back Him Up—The Betting This Afternoon—Full Details of the Election.

3 P. M.—The indications are as follows, but of course the result may be much changed or modified by the votes cast in the remaining four hours up to 7 p. m. The outlook was:

That the entire city Republican ticket would be elected with the possible exception of Rohan for Sheriff.

That the entire Democrat on the ticket were elected the men would be Rohan for Circuit Judge and Tittmann for Public Administrator.

That Ashley C. Clover would give A. A. Paxson the worst beating of the day.

That W. C. Marshall would be surely de-fected for Circuit Judge, and that Jake Klein would get the place.

That Castileman and O'Neill would be elected in the Eighth and Ninth Districts, and Frank would give them a terrible race and a very close finish.

That Francis would beat Kimball for Governor in the city, notwithstanding the claims of the Republicans to the contrary. And That estimates made at 3 p. m. are not the safest things upon which to wager big sums of money.

A leaden sky, a chilly wind, and inauspicious omen of private business and inauspicious haired saloon doors were the features, celestic and terrestrial, of the opening of election day in this city. The hours of 6 a. m. fixed by law for closing the polls were passed very early.
Most of the booths were not fully manned until nearly 7 o'clock. The voters were on hand at the opening hour, and during the forenoon an unusually heavy vote was polled. The hourly totals, publicly posted according to law were surprisingly large owing to the fact that the vote had been consolidated by the reduction of the number of precincts from 24 at the last general election to 18, as to the general election to 18, as to the Four tickets were presented at the polls generally throughout the city, the Democratic, Republican, Union Labor and Prohibition tickets. The Union Labor ticket left blank spaces for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Circuit Attorney, Assistant-Circuit Attorney and Public Administrator.

The Prohibition ticket contained no nominations for the offices of Circuit Judges, Circuit Attorney, Assistant Circuit Attorney, and Public Administrator. The citizens of the Ninth and Tenth Districts were given the choice between six tickets. The anti-Baptist faction of the Nineteenth Ward had a ticket entitled the "Regular Citizens Ticket." It was made up of the Democratic electors, the Democratic State ticket, the name of Geo. A.
Castileman for Congress, and Phil Rohan for Sheriff. The other nominees were taken from the Republican ticket.

The regular independent ticket, also presented to the voters of the Nineteenth Ward, was made up of the list of Democratic electors,
the name of Elbert E. Kimball for Governor, the Democratic State ticket, the name of George A. Castileman for Congress, and Phil Rohan for Sheriff. The Republicans for the city ticket.

The regular ticket of the Union Labor,

The indications for twenty-four hours, commencing at 8 p.m. to-day, for Missouri are: Fair weather; colder, variable winds.

Are the ringers roasted?

The chances are that W. W. DUDLEY will join his own army of “floaters” after to-day.

The country is safe, but we shall think it safer with local reform and tariff reform on top.

ONLY a few hours until barons and boodlers both will hear that they’ve been hustled to the rear.

An early and cold winter has been predicted and campaign literature will come in handy for fire starting on blizzard mornings.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND issued his thanksgiving proclamation early, but there is every reason to believe that it will express his feelings to-morrow.

ANOTHER striking proof of the fact that the existence of the “faithful party organ” is not a happy one was furnished by the Globe-Democrat yesterday.

Look out for frauds and surprises before the close of the polls! A big vote and an honest vote will assure the triumph of reform and the defeat of bad men.

The Republicans are pointing with pride to the fact that they voted for the retaliation bill in the House. Of the fact that they smothered it in the Senate they have nothing to say.

There is plenty of time left for effective scratching. Vote for Democracy by voting for CLEVELAND and THURMAN and the Democratic Congressional candidates. Vote for Democracy by scratching the bosses’ candidates.

EVERY good citizen will respect the dignity of the office in the next President of the United States, bury the political hatchet and settle down for four years to the work of making the country richer and better than it is.

The POST-DISPATCH “points with pride” to its happy position as its own dictator and regulator. It is not answerable to any fact, clique or party, but only to the people, and its prosperity is evidence of their approval.

THE POST-DISPATCH shuns for all. Yesterday both the Democratic and Republican candidates for Governor used its advertising columns to put themselves before the people and to-night the returns will be thrown on canvas for the benefit of all.

The short time remaining until the closing of the polls cannot better be utilized by voters who have not yet cast their ballots than by putting in protests against useless taxation and boodle methods in politics in the shape of votes in favor of tariff reform and local reform. Every voter should count against monopolists and boodlers.

UNTIL the returns of the elections are in and the result is known, the candidates and the men who have taken betting chances will be on the anxious bench, with certain disappointment and loss for half of them. Citizens who are not running for office and have nothing at stake except interest in their parties and principles can calmly await the result with confidence that the Government will live wheresoever wins. Quiet life and anti-betting scruples have their compensations.

WHOLLY AMERICAN.

As the POST-DISPATCH goes to press in the afternoon of election day, thirteen millions of men are deciding the question whether or not there shall be a change of rulers for the 65,000,000 of people who inhabit the United States. Yet the only weapons used in deciding this momentous question are harmless bits of paper peacefully deposited in ballot-boxes. There is no noticeable interruption of business, no loss of time from ordinary avocations save the few minutes each voter may give in going a little out of his way to reach his voting place. No one dares to molest or make him afraid on his way. If he chooses to keep his vote a secret, no one can afterwards call him to account or make him suffer for voting according to his own will. In the whole broad land there are no cannon or bayonets in sight or in reach of the polls; no army to resist or set aside the decree of the ballot-box; and every voter knows that not a single bayonet will be needed to enforce that decree.

All this is commonplace to us, because it has been going on here for a hundred years, with only the single interruption that has warned all men how quickly millions of peaceful voters are converted into armies to crush whatever smacks of an appeal to force from the decree of the ballot-box. But where else on earth is the spectacle of these periodical and peaceful changes of rulers presented? Where else is there even an attempt to imitate them without a mighty standing army drawn up in the background?

This peculiarly American feature of government will compensate voters for any defeat they may suffer at the polls. When the election goes against a party and its candidates, they have only to wait for the logic of events and the strength of their cause to reverse the decision. Thus both sides, victors and vanquished, look forward hopefully to a future election and in the meantime cool off and learn to revise some of their opinions. The passions and misapprehensions of a heated contest gradually relax their hold on the mind. Citizens find that for every conflict of interest or opinion that separates them into hostile parties there are a thousand ties that bind them together, and that a common patriotism, and after all a common object, animates them all.

The Democratic parade last night brought out as fine a body of men as ever formed in line for a political demonstration. The presence of substantial and intelligent men was also noticeable in the Republican demonstration. This is excellent proof that the best citizens have taken an active part in the campaign, and that the intelligent will of the best people as well as the blind or corrupt motives of partisans and “floaters” will be expressed in the result.

The poor old Waste Basket is terribly ignorant at the Globe-Democrat for doing what it did not get a chance to do. Some circulation is necessary to make the advertising space of a newspaper valuable enough for the opposite political party to buy a lot of it.

Lord Sackville a Real Grievance.

There are many things to indicate that the position of Lord Sackville at Washington has been irksome to him for a long time, and that he has been far from satisfied with his formality with which he has everywhere been received almost since he came to this country. He is a strange man, with two idiosyncrasies that peculiarly unfit him for anything approaching popularity in this country. One is an exalted notion of the importance of family and the other is a latitudinarian disregard of the conventionalities, especially those of the family life, that is found in this country, and immediately in clear view.

A POLITICIAN.—David R. Francis’ wealth is not estimated as high as $100,000, but it is not to be denied that Mr. Francis himself can speak authoritatively.

SUBSCRIBER.—Clara Morris will be seen at the Olympic Theater during the month of November. She is the daughter of the Queen of New York of Irish parentage.

READER.—Springfield, Ill.—We have not the figures in the Cook County (Ill.) election that you want, but you can get them at the office of the Secretary of State in Springfield.

SUBSCRIBER.—The word “doocor” is slang for a pump that is so called from the name from the fact that the pump that is so called supplies the engine with its “medicine,” that is, water.

CURRENT.—SEASIDE.—Carl Schurz has not been heard from in this country. He voted for the President and members of the Cabinet and their wives may have led up to this climax. It is curious to hear some questions have been involved in several of the changes that have taken place before in Lord Sackville’s diplomatic life. Shortly after his appearance in Washington, when it became known that his eldest daughter was coming over and would reside at his house, official society was staggered by the discovery that the young ladies were daughters of different mothers, and that Minister West had never been legally married.

The present complication is really a social as well as a political one, and it will possibly be found in the end that the social aspect of the relationship of Lord Sackville and his family with the President and members of the Cabinet and their wives may have led up to this climax. It is curious to hear some questions have been involved in several of the changes that have taken place before in Lord Sackville’s diplomatic life. Shortly after his appearance in Washington, when it became known that his eldest daughter was coming over and would reside at his house, official society was staggered by the discovery that the young ladies were daughters of different mothers, and that Minister West had never been legally married.

The present Republican majority in the Senate has made a remarkable record for cowardice and dodging on the eve of a presidential election. It refused to permit a vote on either the House tariff bill or the Senate tariff bill. It had declined to recognize their mothers. As a result official society in Washington deliberated whether it could recognize either Minister West or the young ladies who, though no fault of their own, had placed him in this position.

The present administration arrived at appears to have been to take care of them personally, but no further. Mrs. Gladstone studiously ignored them. President Arthur, being a widower, was very friendly disposed, and his attention to Miss West were at one time so marked as to be the occasion of much gossip at the capital.

With the advent of Mrs. Cleveland in the White House the social status of Minister West and the Misses West in official circles was completely and wholly collapsed. She refused to meet them and compromised to have anything to do with any of them socially. This was gall and wormwood to Lord Sackville, and it is undoubtedly owing to this circumstance more than to anything else that the Misses West take their departure for Europe. In view of the ease Lord Sackville’s letter assumes the nature of a Partisan shot.

MEM OF MARK.

BLOWITZ, the famous Paris correspondent of the London Times, is said to receive $25,000 a year for his services.

It is predicted that King George of Greece will abdicate his throne early next summer. He has lately purchased a residence in Denmark.

SUCCHI, the Italian fastener, who claims to possess an elixir which renders food unnecessary, has just finished a fast of thirty days at Barcino, Spain.

THE Rev. Dr. Reasoner of Corvallis, Oregon, is the oldest Presbyterian preacher on the Pacific Coast. He is 90 years old, but is able to take an active part in the duties of his pastorate.

ELLIOTT F. SHEPARD of the New York Mail and Express has been blackballed for membership of the Towns Club. Truly good editors are not popular in the wicked metropolis.

J. H. Craig of Iowa City is believed to be the largest man in the world. He is 22 years old, 8 feet 4 inches in height, and weighs now 320 pounds. He has weighed 325 pounds, but uses tobacco to keep his weight below 300.

CHAUNCEY M. DREW demonstrates wheat corners. He says that by raising the price of wheat they have not only inflicted injury on Americans, but have made America lose control of the bread market. Yet Mr. Drew defends the system of high protection which fosters corners on articles which enter into manufacture and also on manufactured necessities, thus wronging the American consumer and depriving the American manufacturer of any chance to compete in markets outside of his own country. Mr. Drew should be consistent.

THAT genuine cut-throat, Citizen Maxime Lisbous, is now running a “Revolutionary Fried Potato Shop” in Paris. “I give,” he says, “the honest pomme du terroir in a well-lighted establishment, and serve it up with Royalist, Republican, Opportunist, Imperialist, and Bonapartist.”

THE Post-DISPATCH received a six-page considerably less than half a column. His voice is not what is used to be, and his breath shows short.

HIRSH LERNER, a printer, has been employed on the Doylestown (Pa.) Intelligencer since 1882. He set up the Whig election ticket in 1860, and has set up every other Whig and Republican election ticket form for Buck County since then.
